1. In June 1951, the lists of reserve officers and men were reviewed. In September 1951, recalls for a period of 90 days were initiated for all reserve officers and non-commissioned officers. The recall is directed by Soviets.
2. In training, particular attention is being given to new Soviet weapons and tanks. Special political courses are also being given in which Stalin and the Soviet Regime are praised and the "aggressive imperialist aims" are denounced.
3. The modern weapons with which the reservists are trained are kept secret from the people, and the reservists are strictly prohibited from speaking about the instruction received or about the new weapons. The training concentrates on Katyushas, heavy artillery, and heavy tanks.
